CRICKET.

Twelve Gentlemen of Ireland Against Fifteen of the Merion Club.

THE IRISH TEAM WIN BY 97 RUNS

Daft's English Eleven Defeat the Twenty-two of Central New York.

Риплареврим, Ра., Oct. 1, 1879. The match between twelve gentlemen of Ireland and the fifteen of the Merion Club was finished today at Ardmore, the grounds of the latter, and resulted in a victory for the Irish by 97 runs. The weather was charming, if anything rather too warm, and the grand stand was well filled with ladies, while several hundred spectators were scattered around the grounds. It was quite amusing to watch the inthe game of cricket, and their frequent and well timed applause displayed their critical knowledge of the merits of the play. The Irish remained at the bat until lunch was called, retiring with a total score of 170. Mr. Trotter again distinguished himself, hitting the bowling very freely and scoring 48, giving him a total of 105 in both innings. Captain Miller scored 26, but gave four chances that must be regarded in a lonient manner, as he was suffering Mr. S. Law for the Merions was the feature of the day, as he played in first class form and scored 45 without giving a chance. The Ladies Cups were won by Mr. Trotter, of the Irish team, with a total score of 105, and Mr. Law, of the Merion, with a total of 51. The total of the Merion score was 130, making in both innings 211, agains: 308 made by the

A SAWDUST TRACK.

Mossrs. Kelly, Bliss and O'Leary formally took possession of Madison Square Garden after the grand flasco of Tuesday night. Yesterday the place was thrown open for the use of the men entered to contest for the O'Leary belt. "Blower" Brown appeared during the morning with Leslie, but neither took any practice. During the afternoon Peter Crossland took a five-mile spin over the track, which is to be altered for the coming walk. Walkers claim it is too hard, while runners like it very much. Mr. Kelly has decided to have the O'Leary contest on a sawdust track, and preparations to that end are now in progress. Some dispute having arisen of late concerning the length of the track, the managers of the coming walk have decided to have Mr. Hazard survey it again. No survey was made for the Astley belt contest, and it is said the track is a little short of one-eighth of a mile.

DAFT'S ENGLISH TEAM DEFEAT THE UNITED TWENTY-TWO OF CENTRAL NEW YORK BY [BY TELEGRAPH TO THE HERALD.]

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 1, 1879. The match game of cricket between Daft's All-England Eleven and the United Twenty-two of Central New York, representing the clubs of Syracuse, Oswego, Utica, Fulton, Albany and other cities, was finished to-day, the signers coming off victorious in one inning, with 70 runs to spare. The Americans remained at the bat the whole day, taking their two innings in bowling of Shaw and Morley was a magnificent extion and could be handled with no sort of dettness by the Americans, who went to the bat like in to the slaughter. The bowling was in the hands of Clark, Ross and Roberts. Both men intreached themselves and let out freely for singles, doubles and tr-bles, scoring 52 runs between them without the wickets being touched. Lockwood was credited with 30 and Barnes with 22. Stumps were drawn at half-past five o'clock. The score of to-day's play is as follows:—

His modest deportment, how-ever, remained unchanged, and he showed no signs of annoyance, even when pursued by a strong force of reporters to the Sheriff's office. There he was for some time closeted with Under Sheriff Cumming. The object of his visit was, as learned after his departure, to convince that official that Weston had cution of Francis B. Fisher, as well as the attachment in the suit of Mr. Saunders. Notwithstanding the strenuous efforts of Rowell's party to come to an agreement with counsel for the plaintiffs the latter persisted in their refusal to relinquish the belt. Steps were accordingly taken to have the question tried by a Sheriff's jury on Monday next. Meantime, as Rowell has many engagements throughout the country which would be pecunarily valueless to him without the belt, the sum of $500 was devosited with the Sheriff, for which the following receipt was taken from Under Sheriff Cumming:—

Received of George W. Atkinson, on behalf of Cnarles Rowell, the sum of $500.

It is understood that this sum is deposited with me to take the place of the belt now held by Tiffany & Co., and levied upon under these two cases by me. If it is established that the defendant (Weston) has no property in said belt then I undertake to return said $500; if it be determined that Weston has a property in said belt then said $500 is to take the place of said belt as to the property so shown to exist in Weston.

It is also understood and agreed that at any time (before the Sheriff shall be indomnified by said plaintiff, said Atkinson or Rowell may so desire, they shall have the privilege of returning the said belt to me, in lien of said $500, and I then undertake to repay said $500 to said Rowell or Atkinson.

YALE'S ATHLETIC INTERESTS.

COMMITTEE OF GRADUATES AND UNDER-GRADUATES APPOINTED-BADICAL CHANGES PROPOSED.

IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE MERALD.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 1, 1879.

An important Yale University meeting was held this evening, the object being to consider the proposition of graduates to assume, with the consent of sition of graduates to assume, with the consent of undergraduates, some sort of supervision over the athletic interests of the college. In the call for the meeting the presidents of the boat club, the baseball and football associations united. A considerable number of graduates were present to explain what was intended. One graduate said that the New Haven alumni had met last week and decided that, the suggestion having originated in a meeting of New York Yale slumni associates, it was time the alumni took part to prevent the repetition of the athletic disasters of the past few years. To this end it was proposed that the undergraduates appoint a com-mittee to co-operate with the committee appointed by all Yale alumni who wished expression in devising plans to secure more systematic efforts in all the departments. Graduates were convinced that there had been mismanagement within a few years, and especially last year. It remained for the undergraduates to say whether they desired suggestions from the alumni. Graduates do not desire to take new burdens, but without better success subscriptions would not be encouraged. Some fundamental reason exists for Yale's losses. This seemed to be lack of knowledge or lack of system. Captains could not know why previous successes or defeats had occurred, and were unable to avail themselves therefore of the valuable experience which a joint committee would possess.

The QUESTION OF TRAINING.

The alumni think it a mistaken idea to suppose that only a few men can train, which seems to have been the prevalent opinion. One hundred men could train, and any eight of them could beat Harvard if worked hard and judiciously. Yale had a good idea in boating, which was Cook's, but she didn't keep it, but had varied stroke every year until last season, when it was varied more than ever and decidedly too much. Yale didn't ask for as much. Sa Harvard and didn't get as much. Graduates want her to take all she can get. The speaker went over the story of Yale's boating, showing few victories and numerous defeats, and said that men nust train longer. His remarks on this point indorsed Captaint Rogers' position substantially. Smaller colleges had shown what could be done by work. Yale had assumed that it was proposed to make radical changes, and place elections to places in the boat beyond any social or other influences, each man to depend entirely on his merit for place. Graduates want power to reject any man absolutely. Harvard gives her captains only limited power, while Yale captains have been allowed to act to the disadvantage of college interests. President McHenry, of the boat club, said that the proposed plan bound no one as yet, and it was thon voted that the prosidents of the three athletic associations be appointed as a committee, with power to select two others, to consult with the alumni committee, which will be appointed speedily.

It is understood that this is a blow aimed partly at senior society influences, though it means also that Yale will exert every energy to beat Harvard. Another meeting for final action will occur when the joint report is submitted.

ANNUAL FALL REGATTA AT LAKE SALTON STALL.—THE BARGE BACE AN EXCITING EVENT.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 1, 1879. Old Yale, young Yale and thousands of the citi-zens of New Haven turned out to-day to witness the annual fall regatta of the Yale Navy at Lake Saltonstall. The weather was fine. The chief cause of the large crowd present was the expectation that would be very exciting. This expectation was fully realized. Of all the races we have witnessed between the various crews of Yale and other colleges this contest of to-day between the crews of '80 and '81 takes the palm. BARGE BACE.

The first contest was a barge race between the crews of the classes of '80, '81 and '82. The crews were composed as follows:-

THE RIFLE.

MILITARY RIPLE TRAM SHOOTING AT BRINTON RANGE-CAPTAIN GRIPPITH'S PINE SCORE. The weather continued yesterday to favor the shooting at Brinton range. It was, however, very warm considering the season, and officers and men belonging to the New Jersey State National Guard who occupied the ranges showed the effects of the heat. The conditions of the matches required the team to appear in the uniform of their respective corps, but this condition was only half complied with, for they were but partly dressed in regimen-tals and few of them were noticed to have their belts on. The day was almost exclusively devoted to military team shooting. Six regiments were entered to compete for the honors of the day. The military team match was open to all regiments of the National Guard of the State of New Jersey. It the National Guard of the State of New Jersey. It was required that each man should be certified by his regimental commander as being a regularly enlisted member in good standing; all competitors to appear in the uniform of their corps; distances, 200 and 500 yards; position, standing at 200, and any, with head toward the target, at 500; weapon, any military rife; ten rounds at each distance. The prize was a bronze statue valued at $200. It is to be held one year by the winning team, and becomes the property of the regiment that may win it three times. Last year the trophy was won by the Ninth regiment (New Jersey) team. The same regiment won it again yesterday on a score of $30 out of 1,200 points. Bonnett, sceretary of the New Jersey State Rife Association, who is acting as executive officer during the present meeting, has made very acceptable arrangements, and business is despatched promptly under his directions. He speaks hopefully of the Brinton range, which is receiving an annual appropriation from the State government in the same way that Creedmoor does.

Shooting continues to-day. The events will be a short range team match, and shooting in the individual short and long range competitions.

MEDICO-LEGAL SOCIETY.

The annual election of officers of the Medic Legal Society of New York took place last evening in the hall of the society, No. 12 West Thirty-first street, with the following result:—Dr. Charles S. Wood, President; Daniel S. Riddle, Vice President; Dr. George W. Wells, Recording Secretary; Henry L. Rokenbaugh, Assistant Recording Secretary; Dr. Jean P. Chaveau, Corresponding Secretary; William Shrady, Tressurer; Dr. William J. Pur-cell, Librarian; Dr. Charles A. Doremus, Chemist; Dr. Edward C. Spitzke, Curator and Pathologist; Amos G. Hull and Professor F. H. Hamilton, Trus-tees; Jacob F. Miller and Professor F. H. Hamilton, members of the Permanent Committee. Dr. R. J. O'Sullivan delivered an address on the subject of O'Sullivan delivered an address on the subject of State medicine, the relations of the professions and the responsibility of civic and educational authorities in the promotion of public health. He said that we in this country treat our stomachs in such a manner that we are fast becoming a nation of dyspepties. The late pedestrian match was decided not by coaching but by the stomach. The Yankee boits his food like a boa constrictor. The lecturer then alluded to the defective ventilation in our public buildings, especially in Catholic churches during the early services on the Sabbath. Speaking of the deplorable sanistry condition of the public schools he said that the New York Herallo rendered powerful aid in the work of amelioration by sending out members of its large staff, who obtained damaging statement's from teachers, trustees and other officials. Had the suggestion in relation to afternoon sessions in the public schools been adopted thousands of children who have been refused admission for want of room would not now be roaming the streets. The paper was considered so important that a discussion on it was postponed to a future meeting.

A SCHOOL FIGHT.

TRENTON EXCITED OVER THE MERITS OF BIVAL READING AND SPELLING BOOKS. TRENTON, Oct. 1, 1879.

Board of School Trustees in this city over a question whether there shall be a change of reading and spelling books in the public schools. The agents of several New York booksellers are here trying to influonce the members of the Board to vote for the proposed change, and a well known and active lobbyist who resides here has been retained, it is said, to "see" the members, for the purpose of bringing about the desired result. If the change is effected the booksellers will profit largely. Mr. Encke, the superintendent of the schools and who had been a teacher in the high school for a long time; Dr. C. Shepberd, ex-superintendent; E. S. Ellis, an exteacher, and all the principals of the schools, it is alleged, are against the change, on the ground that the books now in use answer all purposes, and to change would be unjust to the taxpayers. The controversy over the matter oftentimes leads to personal acrimony both in the Board and outside, and consequently much bad feeling exists. To-morrow (Thursday) night a meeting will be held to again discuss the question, when it is anticipated there will be a lively debate. The Board is composed of fifteen members who are divided on the question, it is said, as follows:—in favor of the change—Messrs. Blake, Skillman, Werkheiser, Marshal, Hunt and Ashmore—6. Opposed—Messrs. Encke, Ellis, Shepherd, Box, Suiphin and Warman—6. Doubtful—Messrs. Valentine, McGill and Meyer—3. e the members of the Board to vote for the pro

EDUCATION IN THE SOUTH.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE PEABODY FUND-SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS DISTRIBUTED.

The annual meeting of the trustees of the Peabody Education Fund was held yesterday, at the Fifth throp, of Massachusetts, chairman; W. M. Evarts and Hamilton Fish, of New York; General Barnes, Washington; Theodore Lyman, Massachusetts; G. Peabody Russell, England; A. H. H. stuart, Virginia; Chief Justice Waite, Washington; S. Wetmore, New York; Bishop Whipple, of Minnesota, and the general agent of the Board, Rev. Dr. B. Sears, of Virginia. The chairman made a brief ad-dress, after which Dr. Sears road his thirteenth annual report, which, after commenting on the condi-tion of the Southern State debts, repeats the sugges-tion made in the last report, that "the federal government might, upon suitable representation, judge it expedient to grant some aid to the Southern States in their efforts to educate the ignorant classes."

In Virginia the superintendent's report for the year ending July 31, 1878, represents the school population as being 280,849 white and 202,852 colored, or 483,701 in all. Of the former 140,472 and of the latter 61,772 were enrolled in the public schools. The average daily attendance was 82,164 white and 33,300 colored. The coat of the system for all purposes was 3961,895, of which $873,398 were for current expenses. In the schools for white children there was a gain of 541 over the previous year, but in those for colored children there was a loss of 3,271. Over $220,000 of the school money have, during the last year, been diverted and used for other than school purposes.

In North Carolina the number of white children of school age in the State is 273,767, and of colored children 145,613, making a total of 422,380. The number of white children whose names are on the sensol records is 146,681, and of colored children
$1,411. The average attendance of the former is only $2,054, a little more than halt of the enrolment, and less than one-third of the whole number of the white children. The average attendance of the colored children is a little better, being 59,499.

In South Carolina there is manifested a great need of extended education, as nearly fifty-seven per cent of the voting population, it was stated, was unable to read the ballots which they cast. The Peabody fund had given ten fifty-dollar scholarships to the Norman and Agricultural Institute at Hampton, Va.
In Florida the superintendent says that there was reason for great encouragement. In West Virginia there had been an increased attendance of 4,852 children over that of last year.

During the past year $74,850 have been appropriated by the Peabody fund, which was divided as follows:—Virginia, $9,850; Morth Carolinas, $6,700;
South Carolinas, $4,250; Georgia, $6,500; Florida,
$3 government might, upon suitable representa-tion, judge it expedient to grant some aid

KIDDLE'S SUCCESSOR.

The Spiritualistic Superintendent Replaced by One of His Assistants.

DEMONSTRATIVE LADY TEACHERS.

An Exciting Session of the Board of Education.

The long looked for meeting of the Board of Education, when the "Kiddle question" should be brought up for final action, was held yesterday afternoon. Constant postponements had not tired the patience of those interested in school matters, for the seats outside the railing were filled at an early hour, and at twenty minutes past four, when President Wood rapped upon his desk, every inch of standvarious candidates. The roll was called and every member was found in his place except Commissioner Wheeler, who is in Europe. The audience outside the railing yawned through the transaction of the regular routine business, which, by the way, was despatched without any attempt at speechmaking by the Commissioners.

Subjects that would have seemed of moment at an ordinary meeting were lightly regarded at this. A communication was read from the trustees of the I wentieth ward calling the attention of the Board to the overcrowded condition of grammar schools there was room for nearly nine hundred more pu-pils in grammar schools Nos. 26 and 48; also to the "libelous charges" being made against the latter schools by "unprincipled persons." They begged that legal steps might be taken in the premses. At last the looked for moment came, and the President announced that "motions and resolutions" were in order. A ripple of excitement passed over the house and the cars of the audience were tuned to concert pitch. Then Commissioner City Superintendent in place of Henry Kiddle, resigned, take place. Before his resolution could be acted upon Commissioner Manierre offered a resolu-tion "that the election of City Superintendent by ballot be suspended, and that when the vote is taken that each Commissioner arise in his place and name the person for whom he votes." This resoluwas ruled out of order.

MR. WATSON'S PROTEST.

Commissioner Watson, who offered the resolution at the meeting in the spring requesting Mr. Kiddle to resign, arose and said, addressing the chair, I desire to send you, sir, in order that the clerk may read it, this printed slip, which contains my views upon this subject." The clerk then read an extract from a late number of the Observer, a religious periodical of this city, which Mr. Watson desired to have regarded as his speech. It ran as follows:-

Perhaps no greater mystery has confronted the clizens of New York than the hesitation of the Board of Education to put a competent man in the place of the present erratic and disqualified Superintendent. We apply those words to Mr. Kiddle only in this sense, that he has avowed himself a Spiritualist, and has published a book of the most consummate twadle that has appeared since one of the same sort was edited by N. P. Tallmage.

the same sort was direct by N. P. Talinage.

The Commissioner then complimented the Board upon its intelligence, adding that Therefore the greater is the astonishment of their fellow citizens when such men hesitate to remove from office a man who has parted with his wits and publicly states that he is now under the control of a set of views and principles which he did not possess when he was appointed to his present place as Superintendent of Schools. Of a man who claims special revelations from heaven, we say unless he can prove them he is a fanatic or a lunatic or a fool. Yet men have been inspired with direct and special revelations from God, and they may be again. In such cases they will have their credentials, and we shall know them by their words and works. The Church does not listen to a teacher who failedy assumes divine processives, but consigns such pretenders to morited silence and contempt.

At this there was a general movement of displease.

At this there was a general movement of displeasure noticeable around the doorways, particul the one leading to Mr. Kiddle's room, but the Clerk the one leading to Mr. Middle's room, but the Cierk continued to read:—

If the Board believe that this claim of Mr. Kiddle is a delusion, utter and perfect nonsense, a shame and a sham, as all sensible men know it to be, then they, the members of this Board, owe it to themselves as men of sense and moral principle, they owe it to the churches and the society is which they have standing as unright and intelligent men, they owe it to the city of New York, which is now disgraced in the eyes of the whole world, to put this unfortunate man out of his charge and put a sound, son-sible—

Here Commissioner Katzenberg interrupted the reading and said that he thought the Board had heard enough; whereat the lobby applauded. The president rapped for order, and begged that the le outside the railing would be behave themselves while the business of the Board was being transacted. Commissioner Watson said that he had no desire to have the reading continued. Enough had been heard already for the Board to understand his sentiments on the subject.

BALLOTING FOR CANDIDATES. The reproof so delicately administered to the lady reachers in the lobby by President Wood had its effect and order was again established. Questions of rules and parliamentary practices were raised by skirmishing members, who between their sentences turned to the lobby for approving cheers, but re-ceived them not. When nominations had been closed four ballots were had, with the following re-siderable skirmishing President woon in the mission to put on record the following protest:—

The undersigned believing that if Spiritualism be a religion then Heary Kiddle, the city superintendent, has violated in spirit, if not in letter, the State law regarding sectarian teaching in our common schools by the publication of his book entitled "Spiritual Communications," with his name on the title page, he being well known, and enly well known as the Superintendent of the New Yerk city common schools; and that if Spiritualism be not a religion then his deviation from that ossential attribute at a man in his most important position, by his letter to Northwer's Monthly for October, 1870, in defence of it, show him to be unfit for the position which he holds; therefore the undersigned protests against Mr. Kiddle being permitted to hold any longer the important trust of City Superintendent of Schools. The letter above referred to reads as follows, and is embodied herewith, as showing most emphatically the necessity of this protest.

WILLIAM WOOD.

THE FEMALE LORDYISTS OUTWITTED.

The Board proceeded to the consideration of routine business, and many who had supposed that the battle was over for the day took their hats and retired. The laddes, many of whom had signed a memorial in the interest of Mr. Kiddle, remained, about seven o'clock, while the female lobby was unusually demonstrative, one of the Commissioners "Mr. Kiddle's influence is at an end. I voted for laying over the matter, but after this demonstration on the part of teachers, who attempt to force us to an issue, I am in favor of making the issue now, and later of holding the teachers who thus forgot themselves to a strict accountability for their demonstrations here. We will settle the question so seen as we can clear the lobby." A few minutes later a motion was made by Commissioner Wicknam that the Board go into executive session. The teachers, especially the females who had applanated the speeches in support of Mr. Kiddle's retention, at once took the hint, and before the time came for the announcement of the vote there was a hurried rustling of feminine apparel and a sudden dissoiving scene through the doors of the main entrance of silks and calicoes, hats and colored feathers. Then for the first time the Commissioners, deprived of the influences of the "lobby," seemed to be in a humor for business. The executive session lasted less than half an hour, and at ten minutes before eight o'clock the doors were again thrown open. A few of the domonstrative lady friends of Mr. Kiddle climbed the stairs, while many more remained at convenient corners watting for the returns. When the Board reconvened Commissioner Walker, one of the Ediers, reported the vote as follows:—Total vote cast, 20; necessary to a choice, 11; John Jasper, Jr., 13; there was identified with the public schools, not only as principal of other schools, b
